A SHIFT IN GLOBAL FOCUS...

Globally, we are seeing significant shifts in our industry. Our conference theme, "A shift in Global Focus", provides the opportunity to hear from industry leaders, as they share their views and insights on key challenges and opportunities being faced by the industry.

There is a shift in market focus from the Northern Hemisphere to the Southern Hemisphere; a shift in the focus of company structures and strategy; a generational shift – with approaching 50% of engineering professionals worldwide now under 35 years old; a shift in procurement focus with increasing private public partnerships; and finally, a significant shift in the profile of health and safety.

Join ACENZ and ASPAC delegates from around the world to network, build relationships, and meet possible future project partners.
